Projects

Online Exam Registration System

Technologies Used: C++, File Handling, OOP Concepts, Exception Handling

Built a menu-driven C++ application that allows students to register for exams, select exam slots, and view schedules. Utilized object-oriented programming principles and file handling for data persistence. Implemented robust exception handling to manage invalid inputs and ensure smooth system operations.

Online Course Registration System

Technologies Used : Java, JDBC, MySQL, OOP Concepts, Exception Handling

Developed a Java-based application using JDBC and MySQL that enables students to register for courses, view course listings, and manage profiles. Included admin features for managing courses and student data, with secure login, input validation, and exception handling to ensure smooth and reliable operation.
